

Intimations.

Throughout the Manufacture of this justly celebrated brand of Table Waters all ingredients used are guaranteed of purest quality. The machinery used is the most modern type and we have gone to great expense to erect our plant on latest scientific principles which has such a great advantage over the old process of manual labour still in vogue through the Colony, thereby further ensuring the purity of our products.

The Manufacture is under the personal supervision of a QUALIFIED ENGLISH CHEMIST, who has devoted years to bring this branch of the trade to perfection.

The Water used is analysed daily to ensure of its absolute purity, and when we say that our method of manufacture has been approved by Sanitary and Medical Authorities, it is in itself a sufficient guarantee.

NOTICES TO CORRESPONDENTS.

It is requested that all communication relating to Subscriptions, Advertisements, &c., be addressed to the "Manager, Hongkong Telegraph," and not to the Editor.

Letters on Editorial matters to be sent to "The Editor," and not to individual members of the staff.

Communications intended for publication must be accompanied by the name and address of the writer, not necessarily for publication; but as evidence of good faith.

Whilst the columns of the Hongkong Telegraph will always be open for the fair discussion by correspondents of all questions affecting public interests, it must be distinctly understood that the Editor does not in any way hold himself responsible for opinions thus expressed.

TO ADVERTISERS.

Advertisers are requested to forward all notices intended

HONGKONG, WEDNESDAY, MAY 7, 1902.

NOTES AND COMMENTS.

Queen Wilhelmina.

We are certain that the sympathy of the whole British nation will be extended to the young Queen of Holland in the misfortune which have followed so quickly one upon another. Only a few days ago the youthful sovereign was making a brave struggle against typhoid fever, and now comes news that she has been prematurely confined and is brought to Death's door, while the hopes of her subjects of celebrating the birth of an heir to the throne in September next are dashed to the ground. The second telegram puts forth some hope of recovery, and we earnestly trust that Queen WILHELMINA may shortly be restored to complete health and enjoy a long and glorious reign.

The Water Question.

The Hongkong Hotel is beginning to feel the want of water most acutely. It doesn't get anything approaching Mr. CHATHAM'S boasted seven gallons per head for the people living there, and the well is running so short that the whole of the water has to be used for the boilers of the engines, which drive the lifts and punkahs. We are told that there is not sufficient water for use in the Hotel laundry, and that to-day water has had to be purchased to supply guests. As for the public lavatory, there is no water available for it, the taps are idle, and salt water is being served out to all persons availing themselves of this convenience. We trust that the directors of this very valuable property will represent the matter to the Government, for more water is an absolute necessity. As we pointed out on Monday, thousands of gallons of water are running to waste on the mainland and the Government should take steps to collect it and distribute it right along the Praya. Of course we shall be told that matters are not so bad as we make out, and that rain must come in a day or two; but the same thing was said a month ago, and the rain has not yet arrived.

Russia.

The state of affairs in Russia appears to be very grave. It is hardly to be wondered at that the people should rebel when one remembers that the Russian peasant is little more than a slave, and enjoys none of the rights and privileges of his brother workman of other lands. Russia has long been ripe for rebellion, and it now looks as though the beginning of the end were at hand. It will be interesting to note whether or no Russia's internal troubles will have any effect towards modifying her Far Eastern policy, or will she continue in her steadfast course of eating up China bit-by-bit.

REUTER'S TELEGRAMS.

QUEEN WILHELMINA PRE-MATURELY CONFINED.

CONDITION CRITICAL.

LONDON, May 5th.

Queen Wilhelmina was prematurely confined at six o'clock yesterday evening. At 8 p.m. the doctors were still in attendance, the Queen being in great pain. At 11 p.m. the patient's condition was critical.

RUSSIAN INTERNAL TROUBLES.

A Vienna paper says that Russia is now in a state of terror. Leaflets are in circulation calling upon the people to rise in rebellion. It further states that Cossacks have killed twenty and wounded forty persons at Ekaterinoslaff. Revolutionary movements have begun at Tamboff, Yaroslaff and Kazan.

LATER.

Princess Beatrice, a daughter of Don Carlos made an attempt at suicide by plunging into the River Tiber, but was saved. The cause of the rash act is said to be jealousy.

QUEEN WILHELMINA'S CONDITION.

The suspense at Het-Loo Palace yesterday evening was intense, the Queen's cries of pain being audible afar. The eminent gynecologist Koumers who was hurriedly summoned was forced to use instruments, extreme exhaustion of the patient following. To-day's midday bulletin explains that yesterday evening's accouchement has destroyed all hopes of the happy event expected in September. All things considered the Queen's condition is momentarily satisfactory.

LOCAL AND GENERAL.

CHOLERA IN HONGKONG.—Six cases of cholera were notified during the 24 hours ended at noon to-day.

THE CHINESE MINISTER TO JAPAN RESIGNS.—The Chinese Minister at Tokio, Ts'ai Chun, has sent in his resignation to the Ministry of Foreign Affairs on the plea of sickness.

THEFT.—A coolie was this morning imprisoned for six weeks, for stealing 9 pieces of brass castings and piece of lead, value $15.00, the property of the Gosmopolitan Dock Co. on the 6th instant.

A BLACKSMITH named Chan Tin, from San On, living at Queen's Road West, was imprisoned this morning for 14 days for boarding the S.S. Elg without the written permission of the master in charge, on the 6th instant.

THE HON. TREASURER of the Alice Memorial and Netherlands Hospitals begs to acknowledge with thanks the following donation to the funds of the Hospitals:—

Mrs. Repts ..... $10

HONGKONG ARMOURER WANTED.—Application has been made to the officer commanding the British forces at Hongkong for the services of a qualified armourer to overhaul the guns of the Shanghai Volunteer Corps.

ARMY RELIEFS.—The programme of British and Indian Army reliefs is likely to be late again this year. The Boer war affects the former, while the China reliefs have to be taken into consideration in settling the Native Army relief.

THE HONGKONG POST OFFICE is at it again, says the Kobe Chronicle of the 25th inst. We yesterday received papers dated the 9th and 10th inst., these having been just a fortnight on the way. Possibly they were sent forward by a junk.

THE RHODES FORGERY CASE.—London, May, 1.—A Capetown telegram states that Princess Radziwill, who has been tried for forging the late Cecil Rhodes' name on cheques, has been found guilty and sentenced to two years' imprisonment, without hard labour.

COTTAM & CO. FOR SUN HATS.

THE REVENUE of the United Kingdom for the quarter ending March, 1902, shows an increase of £4,618,913, due entirely to the additional twopence placed on the income tax.

DRUNK AND DISORDERLY.—A Chilean seaman, named Roguioja, has been sent to prison for 21 days for assaulting P. S. William Kerr, and behaving in a disorderly manner whilst drunk at Kowloon on the 6th inst.

THE SMALLEST EXHIBIT at the Buffalo Exposition was the fig wasp from California. It can be seen only with a microscope. The insect is an important aid in producing the fruit, and the United States Government spent $16,000 in establishing it in the Pacific Coast fig region.

THE GERMAN GARRISON IN SHANGHAI.—In compliance with the joint request of Viceroy Liu K'un-yi and Chang Chih-tung, the Chinese Plenipotentiaries called recently upon the German Minister and formally requested the withdrawal of the German garrison from Shanghai.

THE ROBBERS in Kwangtung are again getting very active. They have entered houses occupied by the natives with torches and committed open robbery. Recently there were some 30 cases of robberies known to have occurred in Kwangtung. The total losses amount to some Tls. 8,000.

SOOCHOW PRESENTS CLOTH TO GOVERNMENT.—There is at this moment a great scarcity of cloth in Peking. The Magistrates in Soochow have collected some 1,000 rolls of different sorts of cloth from Chang-Zau and other cities and forwarded them to Peking as tribute to the Emperor.

THE CANADIAN IMMIGRATION COMMISSION reports that the restriction imposed by Japan sufficiently provides against the dangers of an influx of a number of Japanese into Canada. The Commission advocates the ultimate exclusion of Chinese with an increase in the poll-tax to 500 dollars in the meantime.

A CHINESE PROTEST.—The Chinese Minister to Corea complained to the Foreign Office of Corea, of the outrages that are said to be committed by the Korean soldiers on the frontier between Corea and Kirin, and claimed an indemnity for the alleged outrages. In reply to the protest, the Foreign Office denied the truth of the charge.

PRIZES FOR RAT CATCHERS.—The Kobe Branch of the Japan Sanitary Association has decided to offer prizes ranging from 25 sen to 500 to encourage the capture of rats as a preventive measure against plague. A coupon will be given to any party taking a rat to the police besides a ticket for 5 sen, the sum which is paid per rat by the authorities. When 30,000 coupons have been issued, or after the expiration of sixty days, lots will be drawn and the winners of the prizes will thus be determined. The better way would have been to offer prizes to those securing the largest number of coupons—that is, to those capturing the largest number of rats, says a Kobe exchange.

THE PEACE NEGOTIATIONS.—London, May 6.—After visiting the various commands, the Boer delegates will meet at Vereeniging on the 25th May for their final discussion of the terms of surrender.

MALAY KITES are now being used on the French river, Moselle, for towing boats. An experiment was recently tried with a kite six and a half feet long and a boat containing six persons, making good headway against a strong current by means of this novel method of propulsion.

A LAW HAS BEEN PROMULGATED in the official journal of France which makes vaccination against smallpox compulsory in the first year of a child's life, and requires revaccination at the age of 11 years and also ten years later. It is the most sweeping vaccination law yet promulgated anywhere.

BRITISH PARLIAMENTARY LIFE is an expensive hobby, for the general election of 1900, according to a return lately issued, cost the candidates as much as £777,429 on an average. There were 1,103 candidates (or 670 vacancies) so that each man's bill averaged rather more than £700. The reward for this outlay was a total of 3,519,345 votes. The cost of a parliamentary vote, therefore, may be reckoned as averaging 4s. 4d.

A REMARKABLE STATEMENT is made in a Peking dispatch to the Asahi. It is reported that while the Emperor of China was on his way from the South Park the other day a bullet hissed over his head. It is generally believed, says the correspondent, that this was the result of a trick played by a foreign soldier. If so, it is to be hoped that the foreign soldier will be discovered. Some extraordinary things have been done by foreign troops in China, but this latest appears almost incredible.

THE HONGKONG CORONATION CONTINGENT.

VOLUNTEER DINNER.

As stated before in these columns, the complimentary dinner to the Hongkong Volunteer Coronation Contingent will take place at the Hon. C. P. Chater's bungalow on Saturday evening next at 7.30. We are requested to state that those who wish to attend are to send in their names at once to head quarters so as to enable the caterer to provide for them.

THE WEI-HAI-WEI DETACHMENT. There recently arrived in the Colony, per s.s. Tai Sang, Captain James, Sergeant Pardon, and 13 men of the 1st Chinese Regiment, who are going home to attend the Coronation ceremonies with the Hongkong contingent next Wednesday. The soldiers are strong, sturdy specimens of the Northern Chinaman and should create a very favourable impression in London.

THE COLONIES AND THE CORONATION.

STRENGTH OF CONTINGENTS.

The following Colonies will be represented at the Coronation:

THE REBELLION IN KWANGSI.

EFFECT ON MANCHESTER TRADE.

LONDON, April 27th, 5.45 p.m. The rebellion in Kwangsi is paralyzing Manchester's trade with the China and Singapore markets.—Kobe Herald.

THE CARRIAGE OF TRIBUTE RICE.

For many years past the carriage of the tribute rice from Shanghai to Tongku has been a sore question between the two great British trading companies, who looked upon this contract—at a high figure—as something given in lieu of a subsidy, which the C. M. Co. had often applied for but could never obtain from the Chinese Government. Forty per cent. of the rice was carried by the C. M. Co.'s steamer and 60 per cent. by junk, which went up the Grand Canal, a slow and an even more costly mode of transport than if carried by steamer. But the junk owners were influential and closely connected with officials who had "a pull" as the Americans say, in this highly lucrative contract. Of the total of 600,000 shih of this tribute rice from Soochow, Sungkiang, Chinkiang, and Taichwangchow 40 per cent. that is to say 240,000 shih was carried up to Tongku by the

CHINA MERCHANTS' STEAMERS while 360,000 shih, went by junk, (a shih is 150 catties). Recently Lo Taotai, an honest official who is in charge of tribute rice from Kwangsi Province, made an agreement with Messrs. Butterfield and Swire according to the regulations of the 10th year of the Emperor Kwang Hsu (1884) to carry the same by the Tatou steamers. So that the grain which formerly took months to reach its destination by native sailing vessels (shacheng) can now be carried in a few days by railway up to Peking from where it is discharged at Tongku. This very sensible improvement has already been sanctioned by the Board of Revenues and matter in a great rage, to Governor En of this province protesting against the new agreement, but the Governor said that as the contract was made in Shanghai, Sheng ought to have known about it in time, and before it was decided; if the protest had been made before the agreement was settled he might have been able to consider the matter, but it was too late as the agreement was already signed and the contract has been put into effect.

In this connection it is also reported that the China Merchants Co. is now under the control of the High Commissioner of Northern Trade (that is the Viceroy of Chihli) which Sheng, who has hitherto had a free hand, does not at all like, especially as Yuan Shih-kai, who is known to be a straightforward man in business, is anxious to interfere with the company's management and has appointed Taotai Shen Tso-mai as one of the Directors to look after his interests in its management.—China Gazette.

KOBE AND THE MAILS.

This is what the Kobe Herald thinks:—Something serious should be said or something heavy should be done to the British office people. They have heard of Shanghai and Yokohama and when it comes to sending mails to the East they remember these places without much effort. It seems as if they had never heard of Kobe, or that, if they heard of it long ago in the days when they actually went to school, its name has passed away from them like the memory of our friend's kindness a week ago. I don't know if it is generally noticed, but the fact is the British post office people often derange matters so that some mail matter from England comes to hand here two days and three days later than it might. The people in London in this matter have just that amount of capacity for business which is able to commit a blunder in the act of scheming to do a "smart thing." Two mails—say a P. & O. and a Canadian—are about to leave England.

They—the British Post Office folks—look up their schedules and find that the Canadian Mail promises to land the bags in Yokohama a little in front of the P. & O., or practically at the same time. This settles the matter for the whole of Japan. The Mails for Japan are held over from the P. & O.—such part of them at any rate as is not specially directed via Brindisi—and sent via Canada. The result is mostly all right for Yokohama but it commonly happens that the P. & O. mail is delivered in Kobe two days or even three before the Japanese Post Office jugglers on their part are able to get the Kobe part of the Canadian mail on a Japanese express at 15 miles an hour, not including rests. Shanghai has its mail by P. & O. and Yokohama comes out all right with the Empress arriving there on time, but Kobe "plunks" down in that ancient and comfortable seat which is placed between two stools. Thus, most often a part—never the whole of course—of our Canadian mails should have come by the P. & O. two or three days before the Empress. This happened in the last Canadian mail and it seems to have been duly and neatly arranged between the French mail delivered to day and the Canadian mail due in Yokohama on Monday.

THE RAVAGES OF WHITE ANTS.

A brief but important paper dealing with experiments which have been made to discover an effective remedy against the ravages of white ants has been issued from the Department of Land Records and Agriculture, Central Provinces, says the Bombay Gazette. The Central Provinces have suffered greatly by the depredations of the particular species of ant, "termites taprobanes" which devotes its attention principally to roots and trunks of trees. Their ravages had become so extensive that it was found almost impossible to grow young trees, and all attempts to make roadside avenues failed completely on account of the attacks of these pests. For years past experiments have been made with a view to discovering some method of destroying the ants, or, any rate, rendering the trees immune from their ravages. All sorts of preparations have been tried—a favourite mixture consisting of tobacco, kerosene oil, salt, and sunlight soap. This concoction when applied to the ant-infested trees, was found to but it entirely failed as a preventive, the tree in a day or two being as thickly covered as before with the destructive insects. However, in 1897 at the suggestion of Dr. Pratt, Reporter on Economic Products, experiments were made with a hitherto untried substance, a preparation known as Gondal's Fluid, which consists of dekamali gum, asafetida, aloes and castor oil cake. In the Nagpur district the experiments, which were carried out on a large scale, both in connection with roadside avenues and other trees were everywhere successful and apparently permanent results were obtained, the trees being reported as entirely free from white ants even after a lapse of six months. In the Deol Chanda, Hoshangabad, Nimar, Saugor, Seoni, Narsinghpur, and Bilaspur districts the preparation was equally efficacious, but in Raipur and Sambalpur failures were reported. In the last mentioned districts, however, it is not clear whether the preparation was properly applied, and judging from the reports sent in, it seems as though the mixture was applied as a powder instead of in fluid form. However, the general results are most satisfactory. As will be observed from the list of ingredients used, the material is not costly; as a matter of fact, a sufficient quantity to treat 600 trees ought not to cost more than about Rs. 3-2-0. In view of the extensive ravages of this species of ant in other parts of the country, the report is worthy of extensive circulation.

THE NEW FRENCH REMEDY.
THERAPION.

This successful and highly popular remedy, as employed in the Continental Hospitals by Ricord, Rostan, Jobert, Velpeau, and others, combines all the desiderata to be sought in a medicine of the kind, and surpasses everything hitherto employed.

THERAPION No. 1, in a few days only, removes all discharges from the urinary organs, effectually superseding injections, the use of which does irreparable harm by laying the foundation of stricture and other serious diseases. In dysentery, piles, irritation of the lower bowel, cough, bronchitis, asthma, and some of the most distressing complaints of this kind, it will be found astonishingly efficacious, affording prompt relief where other well-tried remedies have been powerless.

THERAPION No. 2, for impurity of the blood, scurvy, pimples, spots, blotches, pains and swellings of the joints, secondary symptoms, disease of the bones, sore throat, and all diseases for which it has been too much a fashion to employ mercury, sarsaparilla, &c., to the destruction of the sufferer's teeth and ruin of health. This preparation purifies the whole system through the blood, and thoroughly eliminates every poisonous matter from the body.

THERAPION No. 3, for nervous exhaustion, waste of vitality, and all the distressing consequences arising from early error, excess, residence in hot, unhealthy climates, &c. It possesses surprising power in restoring strength and vigour to the debilitated.

THERAPION may be procured of the principal Chemists and Merchants throughout the world. Price in England 2/6 and 4/6. In ordering, the purchaser should state which of the three numbers he requires, and observe that the word "THERAPION" appears on the Government Stamp (in white letters on a red ground) affixed to every genuine package by order of Her Majesty's Hon. Commissioners, and without which it is a forgery.

FOREIGN TROOPS IN BRITISH HARBOURS.

The Times of India says:—"A correspondent who has been wandering in the Far East writes to call our attention to a possible danger that might, he thinks, under given conditions, menace Singapore and Penang, and perhaps Hongkong."

His reflections appear to have been prompted by the sight, in Singapore Harbour, of one of the fine vessels of the Russian Volunteer Fleet. She had over two thousand soldiers on board, packed like sardines in a barrel. "I am told," says our correspondent, "that sometimes two of these transports are at Singapore at the same time." This means that Russia has in the colony at such moments an armed force far outnumbering the British garrison. Now supposing Russia were to secretly resolve to declare war upon England, what is to prevent her from arranging for the presence in Singapore Harbour of a couple of transports crammed with armed men, on the eve of the declaration of war?

And why should she not contrive to land this force at night, and seize the town?

BEFORE THE GARRISON COULD BE ALARMED?

I am only writing of remote possibilities, in the same way that amiable strategists in France and Germany amuse their leisure by discussing plans for the invasion of England. It is only an abstract question, of course. No one supposes that Russia has any idea of suddenly declaring war on England. But if she did, might there not be a serious danger for Singapore in the way I have indicated? The risk is accentuated now that the colony no longer has the advantage of the presence of a British regiment. There would only be a Madras regiment and a handful of gunners to tackle the raiders. I think such an attempt, if not probable, is at least quite feasible under existing conditions.

The writer's suggestion, though a little startling, is at least worth attention. At the same time, it may be pointed out that there is no modern instance where one great nation has on another without any warning whatever. Bombshells of that kind are only exploded nowadays in the pages of romance. The trend of events is generally foreseen; and there would probably be ample time to take the necessary precautions in our Imperial outposts. Moreover, the success of such an attack would depend upon the seizure of the forts, and except in the event of treachery, that would be no easy matter even for a force of four thousand infantry. If the forts had not been taken by dawn, the rising sun would probably behold two Russian transports being sunk by shell fire.

Again, it is not easy to perceive what permanent advantage the foe would gain by their exploit. They might do a very great amount of local damage, but so long as the British fleet kept the seas, the position of Russia would not be materially improved by the

SEIZURE OF SINGAPORE.

It would be impossible for the Russian squadron in the Far East to be in the neighbourhood of Singapore when war was declared. Its natural position would be in the north, somewhere near the Yellow Sea. And in that case the task of recapturing Singapore would be left to our East Indies Squadron, acting in combination with a field force from India operating from the I. side. Except in the untoward event of the destruction of our China Squadron, therefore, any Russian force that got into Singapore would probably discover reason to regret its temerity very soon; and there would always be the Japanese Fleet to be reckoned with in addition.

But though the correspondent's apprehensions need not be taken very seriously, he is right in suggesting that the status of the Russian Volunteer Fleet needs further consideration. There is a widespread belief in the Far East that these fine vessels are really armed cruisers, and always carry guns in their hold.

Some years ago a British Admiral SAILED INTO VLADIVOSTOK with his squadron, under cover of a dense fog. When the fog lifted, the residents of the town were astonished to discover a British squadron coming to anchor, having passed the forts at the entrance to the harbour unperceived. The result of this incident was an intimation that not more than two foreign warships would ever be permitted to enter Vladivostok at a time.

The British Government, we believe, responded with an intimation that not more than two Russian warships would be permitted to enter Singapore simultaneously. Whether the embargo includes the Volunteer Fleet we do not know; but as the vessels are officially described as unarmed, presumably it does not.

A ROMANCE OF BURIED TREASURE.

It is probable that Lord Kitchener is the only man living who has ordered £20,000. to be thrown away. Of course it was done under a misapprehension. Large quantities of stores were, as is well known, destroyed when we evacuated the country after the fall of Khartoum in 1885, owing to the want of sufficient transport for their removal. Among them, says the Week End, were about one million rounds of ammunition, which were ordered to be thrown into the Nile. To Kitchener fell the duty of formally certifying for the destruction, and it was not until the last of the boxes had been hurled into the middle of the river that it was discovered that two of them contained, not ammunition, but 10,000 sovereigns apiece. This happened at Shendi, and it will be interesting to see if any attempt will ever be made to recover the lost treasure. Probably not. Most likely it has long been buried, past all redemption, in the Nile mud. But the fact remains that there it is—£20,000 in good English gold.

&c. and Ice Cream.

THE PASSING OF THE "ROYAL GEORGE."

The announcement that the Royal George has been moved to the upper reaches of Portsmouth Harbour, previous to being broken up, recalls the fact that the vessel, which for more than half a century has served as a picturesque home for the crews of the Royal yachts, when out of commission, is the oldest yacht afloat. A smart and trim frigate-like little craft she is, with three masts, but without yards, by no means looking her real age—eighty-six years next July, or, if you count from the day her keel was first laid, eighty-nine. She ranks third of the four really old ships that are at Portsmouth. The Victory, of course, is older—nearly twice her age, in fact—and so is the three-decker St. Vincent, that swings to the tide off Portsmouth Point. Then comes the Royal George, and after her the old Asia, Codrington's flagship at Navarino, now serving as a berthing hulk in the dockyard.

Two Royal Georges, men-of-war, has the Royal George yacht seen pass away in her time: the Royal George, three-decker, successor to Kempenfelt's ill-fated first-rate, which fought at the "Glorious First of June," and all through the Napoleonic war; and the later 120-gun ship Royal George, which served in the Baltic in 1854 and 1855.

The launch of the present Royal George yacht was quite a grand affair. It took place at the King's dockyard at Deptford, and the little vessel was sent aloft with every ceremony in the presence of the then Duke of York, the Lords of the Admiralty, the Comptroller, and the Commissioners of the Navy. A large assemblage of nobilities witnessed the function, some from two other of the Royal yachts anchored off the building slip, others from within the dockyard precincts in specially erected booths and canopied pavilions. "The vessel," says a contemporary account, "is one of the most elegant ever seen. The cabin doors are of mahogany, with gilt mouldings, and the windows of plate-glass. Ornamental devices in abundance are placed in various parts, all highly gilt, and produce a superb appearance. She is the largest yacht ever constructed." Her size, in fact, was 360 tons, length 103 feet, and breadth 26½ feet. She was equipped, as became a ship on the Navy List, and perhaps also to warn off would-be kidnappers of Royalty, with a battery of eight brass swivel guns.

The Royal George was built specially for the Prince Regent, whom, as soon as she was rigged and ready, she proceeded to pick up at Brighton. The story of her first cruise was the subject of considerable banter in the press and elsewhere, as the following extract from a contemporary publication shows:—

ADDRESS TO THE "ROYAL GEORGE" YACHT.

(Written shortly after her first cruise.)

Hail, gaudy ship!—what wonders thou hast done,
To tempt to sea our Monarch's eldest son!
Methinks I see your richly gilded side,
Resting with courtesy ease on Brighton's tide;
When they say deck the Royal barge before,
And wanton breezes wafted thee from shore,
What crowd flock'd down to 'admire the glorious scene,
And thunder'd forth applauses on the Bay?

A mock heroic description of the Prince Regent's "house-warming" party on board, and the banquet and hard-drinking revelry after it, as the Royal George set out, follows, the verses ending:—

But Boreas, envious at this mighty show,
Put forth his eddies that the winds should blow
And blow they did; you quickly shorten'd sail,
As all the courtesies sicken'd at the gale.
To keep the sea at such a time was vain—
You therefore brought the Regent back again.

For the next two years the Royal George made pleasure cruises in the summer with the Prince Regent between Brighton and Cowes, where the Prince had joined "the Yacht Club," the earlier style of our present Royal Yacht Squadron. He entered his Royal George among the yachts of the club, and so the Royal George may further claim to be the oldest existing vessel on the rolls of that distinguished body. In August, 1822, the Royal George, attended by a squadron of men-of-war, took her owner, now King George IV., to Scotland for his State visit to the North, and brought him back to Greenwich afterwards. Twenty years later she again came prominently before the public, for it was in the Royal George that her late Majesty Queen Victoria made her first visit to Scotland. The Queen, with the Prince Consort, embarked at Woolwich on the 29th of August, 1842. This time the Royal George was towed all the way to the Firth of Forth; from Woolwich to the Nore by one steamer, from the Nore to Abertidey Bay, off Granton, by two. It was her last active service, for a year later the Queen's new steam yacht Victoria and Albert (herself in turn now superseded) was afloat and in commission, and the Royal George was on that relegated to harbour duty at Portsmouth.

SUCCESSFUL FOREIGN POLICY.

How do you arrive at the practical settlement of a treaty? asks the Pall Mall Gazette. The decision is not out, but that of Reuters' correspondent at Peking. The treaty referred to has something to do with the withdrawal of Russia from Manchuria. All that we can make out of a somewhat cryptic telegram is that Lord Lansdowne has completely won Russia, and he is the only British Minister who has done so since Lord Beaconsfield left Berlin in 1871 and presented his country with peace gilt with honour. Lord Lansdowne has never for a moment relaxed his hold on the pulse of Russian diplomacy in the Far East, and the result is, as Reuters' correspondent phrases it, that the Great Bear and the Chinese Poodle are about to arrive at the practical settlement of a treaty which will provide for Russia leaving Manchuria to the Chinese. We had all given that consummation up as hopeless long ago. Well, Lord Lansdowne has worked a miracle, and his countrymen ought to feel thankful, and award him at least the tribute of admiration.

THE FASTEST CRAFT AFLOAT.

An interesting account of the new record-breaking craft, the Arrow, that steams at 10 miles an hour, is given in a recent number of Pearson's Magazine. "A strange craft," she is, so crowded with heavy and powerful machinery that it would seem as though the mighty engines must tend, sooner or later, to brook the frail body into the composition of which aluminium enters so largely. If the sea were suddenly transformed into wax, and you were to lift this swift little vessel as you might a toy boat, the basin wherein she reposed would be scarce large enough to hold 50 tons of water—a bulk not much greater than could be loaded on a railway truck—and yet within the limited confines of this diminutive ship, is housed a mechanical giant, whose strength measures 4000 horse-power, almost as much as was possessed by the trans-Atlantic liners of a few years ago, and higher powered machinery than was ever before placed in a vessel of the size of this one. Nor does this end the category of the novel attributes of this eccentric craft, which has been appropriately christened the Arrow. Strangest of all, perhaps, is the fact that she is both a steam yacht upon pleasure bent, and a torpedo boat, bustling for fight, and may be changed from one to the other in less than two hours. What a boon, in truth, she would have been to the pirates of old, an innocent-seeming bark, lazily ambling towards an unsuspecting ship, and then suddenly transformed under the very eyes of an astounded master and crew into a high-wayman of the seas. The Arrow was built for Charles R. Flint, a New York capitalist with extensive interests in all parts of the world. The owner has not seen fit to take the public into his confidence regarding the price paid for his pretty plaything, but the materials which have gone into the fashioning of the vessel prove that she must have cost a pretty penny, although not so much, perhaps, as any of the nations would gladly pay for her in the event of war. The folk on board the Arrow, have all the comforts and conveniences at their disposal of sojourners on crafts the chief mission of whose existence is not to attain the speed of the wind. For the twelve members of the crew there are folding berths, and for the officers a double state room, extending the entire width of the boat. The owner's apartment is sumptuously finished in satin-wood, and provided with the finest furniture. Connected with it is a private bath. The Arrow has her own electric light plant, and there is a complete system for cooling and ventilating the ship.

LOUISIANA EXPOSITION, AND THE ORIENT.

The St. Louis Republican of the 2nd ult.

John Barrett, the Commissioner General for the Louisiana Purchase Exposition to Asia, Australia, and the Philippines, left St. Louis last night for the Pacific Coast, to begin his extended journey to the Orient and to execute his high diplomatic mission for the World's Fair. He will sail from San Francisco on April 23 on the steamer China for Honolulu. From there he will proceed to Japan. After devoting about a month to Japan he will go on to China, Korea, the Philippines, French Indo-China, Siam, Straits Settlements, Java, Burma, India, Ceylon, Australia, and New Zealand. The itinerary of the Commissioner General will cover some 25,000 miles and occupy nearly nine months.

President Roosevelt has given special directions to the State and Navy Departments to assist him. In consequence Secretaries Hay, Root and Long have issued instructions to all Ministers and Consuls in the Philippines, and naval officers in the Asiatic station, to co-operate with him to advance the interests of the Louisiana Purchase Exposition in trans-Pacific countries.

It is hoped that President Roosevelt's attitude will have a most favourable influence on the governments of the Far East and South Pacific.

Mr. Barrett's departure has been delayed by important negotiations in Washington with the Ministers of Japan, China, Korea, and Siam, but the results of his labours have been ample recompense for the time spent at the capital. President Roosevelt and Secretary Hay both gave him full credit for the diplomatic achievement of securing Japan's reconsideration of her first declaration to participate in the exposition, was on the danger point of reconsidering her acceptance on account of certain drastic provisions in the exclusion bill before Congress, when the Commissioner General secured the necessary change in this section of the bill, which was hostile to Chinese participation in expositions, and convinced Minister Wu Ting-fang that China would make a serious mistake by withdrawing her acceptance.

The experience and record of Mr. Barrett as United States Minister to Siam and later as plenipotentiary delegate to the Pan-American Congress in Mexico will greatly facilitate his labours in his present highly responsible mission. Probably few other men are better known in the Far East than he, while he has established a reputation at home in America as one of the leading advocates of the development of our Pacific commerce and trade. Mr. Barrett will be accompanied on his journey by Mr. J. Gordon Hardie, late special agent of the Post Office Department, as secretary.

The Commissioner General goes first from St. Louis to Portland, Ore., and Seattle, and then to San Francisco to take the steamer as already stated.
